DON'T BELIEVE THEY'RE LICKED

CHINESE SAY ENEMY WAS WHIPPED

Their Papers Print Lurid Pictures of What Their Soldiers Did for the Foreigners—A Report That Americans Would Not Retire From Pekin Aroused Enthusiasm.

By Wire to The Telegram

Shanghai, Sept. 4.—An imperial edict just issued appoints Prince Ching, Yung Lu and Han Ting as commissioners to act with Li Hung Chang in negotiating peace. The Yang Tse Viceroys are utterly ignored.

Dispatches have been received here announcing that the American government refuses to agree to the withdrawal of troops from Pekin before satisfaction for outrages upon, and losses of, its subjects, should be made. The news was applauded by the entire foreign colony at Shanghai. The masses of Chinamen now believe that the Chinese army was victorious. Native papers print luried accounts of the success of the Chinese soldiers. They also show pictures of foreign missionaries being tortured in the presence of the Viceroys. The Powers will refuse to recognize these commissioners.

CONDUCTOR BEARD INJURED.

Received a Blow on the Head in the Wreck Near Staley Yesterday.

It was at first reported that no one was hurt in the freight wreck near Staley yesterday, but later it was learned that Mr. Claude Beard, the conductor, was probably seriously injured. When the wreck occurred he was in the caboose car, along with several members of the train crew and a few passengers, and was thrown with much force against the rear end of the car, receiving a severe blow on the back of his head. He was also slightly bruised about the body. An examination showed that a deep gash had been cut in the back of his head.

Mr. Beard was carried to his home in Mt. Airy, where he is receiving the proper attention.

Once before Mr. Beard was injured on the head in a wreck. It was several years ago, while he was in the service of the C. F. & Y. V. Railway.

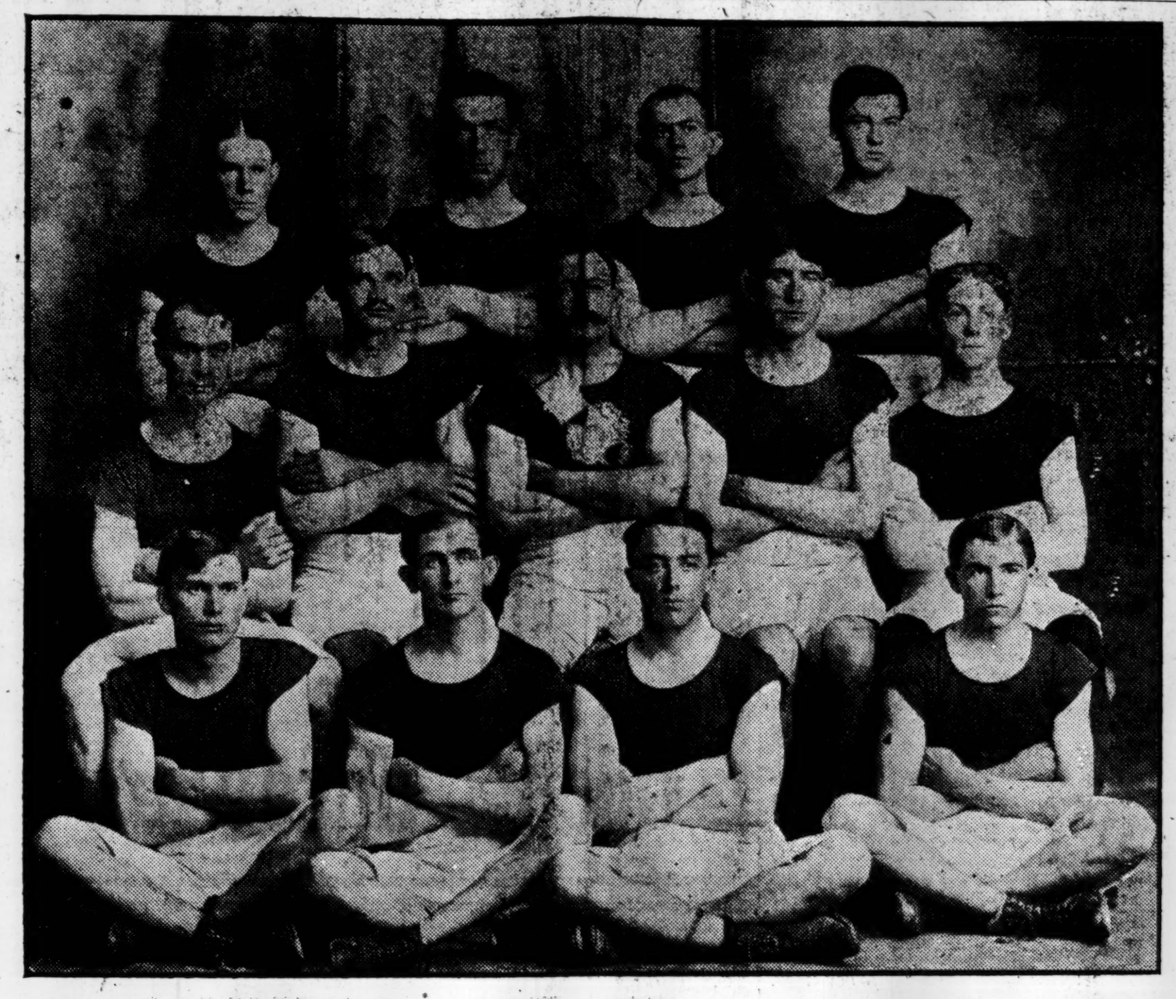
THE CRIMINAL CUCKOO.

He Is the One Exception to the Kindly Nature of Birds.

Bad temper and cruelty are perhaps the most obvious signs of mental degeneration in the beasts. The larger monkeys, for instance, become as bad tempered as a violent man when they grow old, and many in their treatment of other animals are cruel as we use the word in regard to man. Among the carnivorous beasts the cat amuses itself by torturing a mouse, and the weasel tribe kill for sheer love of killing. No such cruelty is seen among eagles or falcons. Fierce as their tempers are, they do not torment other birds which they catch or kill for killing's sake. Good temper is general among birds.

Except the cuckoo, such a thing as an ill tempered wild bird is unknown. Nowhere in the race can a temper like that of the Tasmanian devil or the wild hunting dog or the Cape buffalo or the baboon be found. Even those which in spring are thieves and egg robbers are not mauvais coucheurs at other times. Good temper and good fellowship in society, a personal affection to each other to which the beasts offer no parallel, industry and independence, intense devotion and foresight in tending their young, with other very human and engaging traits of character, must all be credited to the race of birds.

Among these kindly and simple natures the cuckoo is a monster. Let there be no mistake on this subject. He unites in his life and character, from the egg to the adult bird, practices and principles to which the whole race of warm blooded animals offers no parallel. He is an outrage on the moral law of bird life, something so flagrant and so utterly foreign to the way of thought of these kindly beings that if he did not exist he would be inconceivable. It is not merely that he is a supplanter and a changeling. His whole nature is so evil that in the world of birds he is an incarnation of the principle of ill, an embodiment of vices which would if understood or adopted by other birds put an end to the existence of the race.—London Spectator.



Greensboro Southside Hose Company Running Team.

First row, beginning at upper left hand corner: C. S. Mendenhall, Geo. P. Crutchfield, Will Reynolds, Ed Mendenhall; second: C. E. Brower, Will Ross, H. B. Donnell, E. L. Stack, Zeb Crutchfield; third: Geo. Kirkman, Chas. Short, Marvin Hunt, Geo. Kirkman, Jr.; members of the team not in picture: H. L. Reynolds, Robah Watson, Claude Ross. It was impossible for these gentlemen to be here when the photograph was taken.

This team won the championship belt of the State Firemen's Association, at Greensboro, August 3, 1899, and again in Wilmington, July 12, 1900. If the team wins the belt next year, they keep it for good, removing it entirely from the hands of the Association. The time, in 1899, 49 seconds, was four lower than had ever been made before in the Association Time in 1900, 46 2-5, which is within 1 2-5 seconds of the world'srecord. The race embraced a run of 200 yards to hydrant, connecting to hydrant, laying of 300 feet of hoes and running water through entire line of hose.

PUGILIST KILLED IN LONDON.

The Successful Fighter Died From the Effects of His Wound.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Sept. 4—Ponk Andrews and Jack Coon, local pugilists, had a savage fight last night. In the fourth round Andrews received a terrific blow on the jaw and neck, but revived before being counted out, and continued to fight. In the fifteenth round Andrews landed a knockout blow, and was declared the winner. Soon afterwards he began to feel badly, and examination showed him to be suffering from a lacerated and bruised condition as a result of the blow in the fourth round. He grew steadily worse and died this morning.

A Big Excursion.

One of the biggest excursions of the season was run from Goldsboro to Asheville today, passing Greensboro shortly after 1 o'clock. The train arrived here with eight cars, all comfortably filled, and a ninth was attached to it here.

The following people went from Greensboro: Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Rich and family, Mrs. L. J. Brandt, Mrs. C. P. Vanstory, Mr. R. G. Fortune and Dr. John K. Wheeler.

Narrow Escape From Injury.

Prof Lee T. Blair had a narrow escape from injury this morning as he was driving down the street with his two children. In front of Clegg's the horse ran against a wagon, overturning the buggy and breaking the shafts. The occupants were thrown out, though fortunately no one was hurt.

THE ONE GREAT EXCUSE.

Mr. Little's Subject at Westminister Last Night—Meeting Will Close Tomorrow Night.

The subject of Rev. Mr. Little's sermon at Westminister church last night was "The One Great Excuse," his text being John 5:40, "And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life." The divisions of the sermon were three: First, to whom we are invited to come. Second, for what we are invited to come. Third, why all do not come.

Under the third division of the sermon, after having mentioned several excuses and having shown that they were all worthless, Mr. Little emphasized that there was but one real excuse, and that was man's unwillingness, which will be accepted as a valid excuse if man persists in making it.

This morning at 11 o'clock the subject of a most comforting sermon was "The Final Blessedness of the Believer." It was decided this morning to continue the services until tomorrow night. There will be preaching tonight at 8 o'clock, and also tomorrow at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m.

The subject of the sermon tonight will be "The Outcome of Sin." Tomorrow at 11 o'clock the subject will be "Confessing Christ."

The Wickedest Bit of Sea.

Nine out of ten travelers would tell inquirers that the roughest piece of water is that cruel stretch in the English channel, and nine out of ten travelers would say what was not true. As a matter of fact, "the wickedest bit of sea" is not in the Dover strait, or in yachting, for example, from St. Jean de Luiz up to Pauillac, or across the Mediterranean "race" from Cadiz to Tangier, nor is it in rounding Cape Horn, where there is what sailors call a "true" sea. The "wickedest sea" is encountered in rounding the Cape of Good Hope for the eastern ports of Cape Colony.—Shipping World.

HONORABLY MENTIONED.

Greensboro Tobacco Attracts Attention at the Paris Exposition.

Mr. J. F. Jordan was today notified that an exhibit of leaf tobacco prepared by him for the Paris Exposition had received honorable mention. The exhibit was made up of all grades, special attention being paid to cigarette tobacco and strips, which are the grades most sought after by the European trade.

At the World's Fair Mr. Jordan had an exhibit of tobacco which was conceded to be the finest ever made. A few years ago he also made a very fine exhibition at Buffalo, the two exhibits costing him over $500 in cool cash.

A bulletin of the medical officers of Glasgow this morning shows that an additional case of plague has been reported. The total cases now are 13, with 103 doubtful ones under observation.

THE HISTORY OF GUILFORD.

MISS STOCKARD TO BE THE AUTHOR

She is Now Gathering Material and is Meeting With Encouragement on Every Hand Author of "The History of Alamance" and is Well Fitted for the Work--Guilford Rich in Historical Research.

Guilford county is to have a history; or rather, the story of Guilford's history—grand and glorious in many things—is to be told. The story is to be told by Miss Sallie W. Stockard, author of the creditable "History of Alamance," which is a guarantee that the work will be done well.

For some time Miss Stockard has been wishing to write a history of Guilford county, and when she spoke of the matter to a few people in Greensboro they gave her such hearty encouragement that she decided to begin at once the work of gathering material.

The work will be as full and complete as it is possible to make it. In gathering material Miss Stockard will endeavor to call on all those who are familiar with facts in connection with the history of Guilford county and will appreciate any assistance they may be able to give her. She hopes to have the material gathered by the end of the year.

Guilford offers a rich field to the historian, and the people of the county will gladly welcome and assist Miss Stockard in the task to which she has set herself. By her "History of Alamance" she has proved herself well fitted for the work. She will tell the story of Guilford county in an interesting and entertaining manner.

PARTIN COME TO LIFE AGAIN

SALVATIONIST WHO LOOKS LIKE HIM

The Second Man Who Resembles the Man Who Twenty-Six Years Ago Murdered His Wife and Child—The Crop Report.

Special Correspondence of The Telegram.

Raleigh, Sept. 4.—The government crop report for North Carolina was issued today for the week ended last night. It says: "Many favorable reports were received for the week ending in consequence of the widely distributed rainfall which occurred on several days, yet most reports indicate that the rains came too late to improve the prospects for the staple crops to any extent. Morever, many places are still extremely dry, so that fall plowing and planting is impossible. The temperature for the week averaged 6 degrees daily above the normal, but moderate towards the close, the nights becoming somewhat cooler. Where rains occurred, peanuts, field peas, and sweet potatoes were refreshed, and the moisture stopped premature opening of cotton bolls to a considerable extent. Much fall plowing was done and turnip seeds sown. Fodder pulling is nearly over in the east, but is just underway in the west portion of the State. It is hardly possible that the weather conditions can materially affect the yield of corn; much has been cut and stands in shock. Cotton is opening very fast, and picking has become general; in many counties the crop is half open. The prospects for late or top crop are very poor. Uncut tobacco has been badly scorched and is curing poorly; cutting is proceeding actively in the north-central counties. The rice harvest has begun; the crop is fine along the lower Cape Fear river, but poor in northeastern counties. The melon season is nearly over."

The Salvation Army people are making inquiries about Robert Leeson Porter, who is one of their preachers; and this brings to mind a romance in real life. Twenty-six years ago Scott Partin, a white man who lived south of here, murdered his wife and baby, cut their bodies to pieces and sunk them in a swamp near a spring. The murderer was outlawed and search was made for him far and near. It was long afterwards said that he was for a time in hiding in a cave in a rock about a mile from Raleigh, being fed there by a kinsman. Twelve years ago a deputy sheriff brought to the jail here a man whom he and others as well stood ready to swear was Partin. And this prisoner proved to be much more than a nine-days wonder. He said he had served in the United States army. It was true. He said he was an Irishman. That was true and more, for he was a member of a noble family. He was released after the papers all over the country had had much to say about him. Then inquiries began to come from his noble relations, through the Department of State at Washington and also through British consuls. But by that time Partin was gone, like the globe-trotter that he is, and no one here had heard a word of him, until the almost equally forgotten Salvation Army made its inquiry. It shows the extent of human credulity perhaps to say that there are some even now who say they believe Porter was really Partin.

Labor Day was observed here today by the closing of the capitol, the banks and the postoffice, but not otherwise. By the State law next Thursday is Labor Day, but this was due to an error by the Legislature. However, this "erroneous holiday" will pass unnoticed Thursday.

The public schools here reopen September 28. There are now 56 teachers in them. Two new buildings will be ready, and will accommodate 800 more pupils.

Superintendent W. A. Smithurst, of the Raleigh Cotton Oil Mills, was buried yesterday.

The rains in this county have benefitted the "top cup" of cotton, and also late corn. Much of the corn is utterly ly ruined. There are many cotton bolls which when pressed by the fingers go to pieces like pods with dust in them, blighted by the heat and the drought.

Gen. W. R. Cox, of Edgecombe county, is here. He devotes much of his time to his farm.

It is said by the local undertaker, who embalmed the body of the hanged murderer Tom Jones, that fully 3,000 persons have viewed the body, and a number of these were ladies. Great, indeed, is the power of human curiosity. The embalmer is proud of his success and says Jones looks better dead than he ever did alive. The "deceased" will be thus preserved until October, when the darkey medical college will get at work on the cadaver.

The electric light plant at the penitentiary was completed today and will be tested Wednesday. This is said to be an excellent piece of work, done under the personal supervision of Mr. J. H. P. Cilley, of Hickory.

School of Instrumental Music at the State Normal.

SIT DOWN TO LUNCHEON TOGETHER.

Labor Day Observance in Chicago Excludes Politics and the two Colonels Review the Parade and Then Break Bread Together, Mr. Towne Also Being Present —Roosevelt and Bryan Speak.

Chicago, Sept. 3.—Organized labor of Chicago today passed in review before Colonel William Jennings Bryan and Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. Hour after hour the labor unions marched down Michigan avenue past the Auditorium Hotel, on the loggia of which stood the Democratic nominee for President, and the Republican vice presidential candidate, together with Charles A. Towne, Senator W. E. Mason and a dozen other political leaders. Both Bryan and Roosevelt were heartily greeted by the men as they marched by the hotel.

When the last man of the long line of marchers had swung round Michigan avenue into Jackson Boulevard, Colonel Bryan and Colonel Roosevelt went into the hotel, where soon after they sat down to a luncheon given by labor representatives. It was a "flag of truce" luncheon, for the trades union men had declared that in the celebration of Labor Day there was to be no politics. While the parade was moving, a host of people, mostly the families of working men, gathered in Electric Park, where the speeches of the day were delivered. The programme of speeches was as follows: 2 p. m. to 3 p m.—Governor Roosevelt, Chas. A. Towne, Samuel Alschuler, Democratic candidate for Governor of Illinois; Richard Yates, the Republican gubernatorial nominee; Wm. E. Mason, Mayor Rose, of Milwaukee; Mayor Harrison, of Chicago; R. M. Patterson and P. J. O'Donnel, to speak in the order given. 4 p. m., Colonel Bryan. Colonel Bryan and Colonel Roosevelt made speeches addressed especially to the workingman.

Colonel Roosevelt left here late this afternoon and Colonel Bryan at 8 o'clock tonight. The latter went to Cumberland, Md., where he will open the campaign in that State tomorrow.

His Wife Robbed Him and Now Wants a Divorce.

Baltimore Special 1st, to Philadelphia Record.

William Schwartz wants a divorce because his wife took his money while he was asleep. In his complaint he says that on the night of August 10 he had a gold watch and a bag containing $88 under his pillow. When he awoke the next morning the watch and money were missing.

Mr. Schwartz declares that Mrs. Schwartz confessed to taking the money and jewelry, and that she returned the money after assurances that she would not be prosecuted. He says the watch and ring were found at a pawn shop.

Mrs. Schwartz denies the charges, and declares it is all a plot by her husband for revenge because she had him arrested for non-support.

Greensboro's Lead in Poetry.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

We noticed in your issue of the 29th of August a poem said to have been written by a citizen of Greensboro We were somewhat astonished to know we had in the city one that possessed so much poetical genius. While old Guilford cannot boast of giving the largest majority in the August election we think we can vote ours the banner county in the the State when it comes to writing poems. We have been unable to find out who the writer is, but would like to hear from him again at no distant date. Success to his pen.

SUBSCRIBER.

The platform on which Mr. Bryan was speaking at Electric Park, Chicago, yesterday, gave away, causing a panic and stampede among the crowd of people on it. "This can't be a Democratic platform. There are no bad planks in that," jokingly said Mr. Bryan. His coolness arrested the panic.

WINE OF CARDUI

A SURE MEDICINE.

HANDSOM, VA., Dec. 31.

I have been suffering from female weakness for four years, and have taken many medicines, but Wine of Cardui and Black-Draught have done more for me than anything else.

MRS. CAROLINE EVANS.

McELREE'S Wine of Cardui

It is a mistake to take any and every kind of medicine when you are sick. There is danger in it. Most of the so-called cures for "female weakness" do nothing more than deaden the pain temporarily, and when the effect wears away the patient is weaker and sicker than before. It is never wise to take chances. You have only one life, and that is dear and precious. If you have any pain, ache, disorder or weakness in the feminine organs, nothing will help you like Wine of Cardui. It helps do away with morning sickness during the early stages of pregnancy, and modifies the pains of childbirth; recovery is rapid and future health is assured. The Wine is purely vegetable, being made of herbs whose medicinal properties act directly upon the organs of womanhood. It is a long-tried remedy, and has many years of success behind it. It is sure. Why take a chance medicine when you can get a sure medicine?

TUESDAY SEPTEMBER 4, 1900.

WHO SHALL BE POET LAUREATE?

A correspondent wants to know something about some poetry that has appeared in the columns of The Telegram. He intimates in the outset of his article that the poem referred to was not the work of a Greensboro author, but winds up by admitting that Guilford stands right "up in G" when it comes to poetry. Now, so far as we know, there is not a single poet of the first water in Guilford county outside of Greensboro, hence our correspondent comes out alright in giving us proper credit for the talent which the city possesses. He truly says that in poetry Greensboro may well challenge the State. We have all more or less heard of the persevering youth who carried the banner of "Excelsior." In poetry we want it distinctly understood that Greensboro is carrying the banner of excelsior. There are at least amongst us half a dozen poets who can roll off poetry with more ease than Jack and Jill took their famous tumble down the hill.

The Telegram, having selected as its mission the encouragement of everything tending towards the advancement of this section in all good things, hereby bids our poets go forward. We should like to see some friend of art and literature offer a prize for a competitive trial in poetry. If no one volunteers to do this we propose to see that at least a laurel crowns the brow of the successful genius. That laurel shall be the poet-laureateship of this city. And right here we will bid our newer and less well known bards take courage. For some time it has been tacitly admitted that the author of "An Ode to a Calf" was our foremost poet. While neither confirming or denying this opinion, or wishing to detract from his well earned reputation, we are firmly of the opinion that he is not the only one who has drunk deep from the empyrean spring. No one has ever yet climbed so high the ladder of fame but that sooner or later a rival creeped steadily up, round by round, till in reaching distance he could seize his haughty rival's leg and yank him off the pinacle and there complacently take his own seat. This fact should be worth tons of encouragement to all our struggling poets.

Who shall be the poet laureate of Greensboro, to sing her praises when occasion demands, express her sorrow when in the depth, or speak the voice of the people when public opinion is in a ferment on some great question like that of the hog pens?

To start the ball rolling, who will give us an ode on the "Passing of the Pigs?"

The report in The Telegram of the meeting of the Republicans in Greensboro yesterday contained the statement that it was the intention of the Republican managers to obtain some good speakers from abroad and have a discussion of the issues of the day. It is to be hoped that they will carry out that intention. It would be a novelty in North Carolina to hear a Republican make a speech without calling the majority of the white people of the State thugs, thieves and hoodlums—this latter word was added to the political nomemclature by the Honorable W. R. Henry—and there are really no Republican politicians in the State capable of making speeches other than as we have described, with a dash of senseless eulogy of McKinley thrown in.

MR. SCHURZ TRIPS MR. GAGE

We are not one of those happy mortals who very much admire the Honorable Carl Schurz, nor are we one who cheerfully waits for the "German vote" to follow pell mell wherever Mr. Schurz happens to be wandering in his intellectual and political vagrancies. But our want of admiration for Mr. Schurz does not blunt our appreciation of "a neat job," and hence we call attention to this gentleman's open letter of last Saturday to the Honorable Lyman J. Gage, Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. From that letter we print:

The newspapers of August 26th published an interview with you in which you were quoted as saying that "there is no doubt Mr. Bryan (if elected President) could order his Secretary of the Treasury to make payment in silver of all the public debt payable in coin, and for all current disbursements of the government as well, which amount to $1,500,000 to $1,750,000 per day; and that he would give such an order, too, is very certain, if he is in the same mind that he was in 1896." You went on to say that although Mr. Bryan "would have great difficulty in doing that at once," owing to the small silver resources of the government, yet he might accomplish it in time, as the mere announcement of such a purpose "would stop the inflow of gold or at least very largely diminish payments in gold and correspondingly increase payments into the treasury of silver certificates;" that this would practically put the government on a silver basis, ruin its credit, and bring incalculable disaster upon the business interests of the country.

* * * *

If the Executive, as you say, possesses the discretion of "paying silver in settlement of all interest on the public debt not specially payable in gold and of making its daily disburrements to its creditors in silver," it is owing to a flaw in the currency law passed at the last session of Congress—a law which, as the spokesman of the Republican party promised, was to put the gold standard upon an impregnable basis. It was suggested at the time by some of its critics that this law was purposely so manipulated by Republican politicians in the Senate as to leave the possibility of the subversion of the gold standard by executive action open in order to enable the Republicans in the present presidential campaign to save the gold standard and to prevent dreadful economic disaster. Whether any such scheme entered into that legislation, I do not assume to determine. Certain it is, however, that this feature of the law is now so used, and that you, Mr. Secretary, actually do so use it for the evident purpose of alarming the business community and the possessing classes generally.

* * * *

Whoever may be elected President on November 6th, there will be another session of Congress before he will take office on March 4, 1901. The Republicans will have majorities in both houses of Congress. The Executive, too, will be in their hands. They will, therefore, be able to make such laws as they please. They will thus have full power and ample opportunity before the inauguration of the next President to pass any legislation required to make it utterly impossible for any President to break down the gold standard in the way you, Mr. Secretary, describe in your interview. A simple enactment in two or three lines substantially proving that it shall be the duty of the Secretary of the Treasury to pay in gold or silver, at the option of the creditor, all kinds of indebtedness of the United States now payable in coin, may be sufficient. And if there should be another flaw in the present law dangerous to the gold standard in any other way, you, Mr. Secretary, able financier as you are, will surely detect it, and find a legislative remedy and have it ready in the shape of a well matured bill to be submitted to Congress at the opening of the session. In short, the Republicans, controlling both the legislative and executive branches of the Government, will, next winter, have ample power and opportunity to do what they ought to have done at the last session—to put the Currency law in such a shape that the gold standard cannot possibly be shaken by executive action, no matter who may occupy the Presidential chair—and thus remove, to that extent at least, the basis of our monetary system from the changeful game of party politics.

Do you see any reason for doubting that Congress at its next session will do this? It is quite evident that, if there is any substance at all in your prediction of disaster, the Republicans in Congress cannot refuse to do it without proving that the professed solicitude of the Republican party for the maintenance of the gold standard is arrant hypocrisy. But if there be any wavering, I am convinced public opinion will, in case of necessity, compel them to take the necessary steps.

Mr. Gage's effort to alarm the country, and thus cripple Mr. Bryan, was a very small thing for a big man to do, and we are glad that Mr. Schurz tosses him into a hole and covers him up.

There is this year an unusually large crop of patriots shifting from their party associations. This shifting from one party to another occurs every year and is always taken by partisans as an indication of a coming landslide in favor of their candidates. The National Democrat publishes a list of those who during last week came over from McKinley to Bryan. They are all presumably men of more or less prominence, at least locally, whose change of heart is worth noticing from the fact that they had usually been enthusiastic supporters of Mr. McKinley. The last week converts amounted to twenty-three individuals and twelve newspapers. That is the work of only a week. The prominent politician who changes from violent support of one candidate to more violent support of the other in most cases didn't get as much reward from the first as he thought his imminent services deserved. This, of course, does not apply to men who make no great fuss for either candidate but quietly vote as they choose.

There are rumors of a powerful coalition to give this State's electoral vote to McKinley, and it behooves the Democrats to be alert and watchful.—Charlotte News.

There is so much rumor of this "powerful coalition," and it is all so indefinite, we take it that some specific information regarding it would be the newspaper scoop of the season. Some names of the parties, together with a statement of plans, would prove the most interesting of reading matter.

We recollect to have heard that Mr. Holton was "oneasy" about the time Mr. Simmons' letter regarding the meddling of Federal officers in local politics was being read at Washington. Does this have anything to do with Mr. Holton's sudden discovery that the duties of his office are too exacting to allow him to remain chairman?

Periodical Famines Expected.

Since the first great famine of which there are records devastated the land in 1770, when 10,000,000 perished in Bengal alone, India has scarcely passed a decade free from scarcity of grain in one district or another. The British government expects a drought about twice in every nine years, a famine once in every 11 or 12 years and a great famine about twice in a century. —Review of Reviews.

Tobacco.

Numerous observations prove that the use of tobacco is a potent cause of disease of the eye. Total blindness from degeneration of the optic nerve has been traced to this cause. Recent observations point to tobacco and alcohol as the great causes of color blindness, and this accounts for the fact that it is much more common in men than in women.—Health Culture.

ABBEY'S MEDICAL TALKS

Sleeplessness.

At least eight hours sound, refreshing sleep is necessary in every twenty-four. Do you get it, or is your slumber disturbed by restlessness? Do you lie awake counting the hours until early morning, then to fall asleep and be awakened just as you think your eyes have closed? The body and brain require rest. If the body does not get the repose it needs, the system is weakened, and nervous depression with melancholia follow.

ABBEY'S EFFERVESCENT SALT induces sound, refreshing sleep. It goes right to the cause of the trouble. It removes the pressure of blood from the brain, and sleep is secured. Abbey's is not an opiate or drug, nor does it stupify. It acts just the other way. Upon awakening you feel refreshed and strong, with clear brain and good appetite and best of all, there is no reaction of any kind.

One-third of your life is spent in bed, gathering strength for the other two-thirds.

Sold by most druggists, or sent by mail.

EDWARDS DIES FOR HIS CRIME.

The Execution of the Negro Who Killed the Concord Policeman Neatly Carried Out in Salisbury—1,000 People Surged About the Jail Endeavoring to Witness the Hanging.

Salisbury, Sept. 3.—The hanging of Will Edwards, the murderer of Policeman Will Kerns, of Concord, here to-day, was accomplished without any of the unnecessary horrors of the scaffold. At 10:17 a. m. he dropped 6½ feet; at 10:28 the pulse had ceased to beat, and the physicians in attendance pronounced him dead four minutes later. His neck was broken and animal life must have ended with the drop.

Edwards walked to the scaffold accompanied by Geo. Schutz and Rev. W. H. Bryant, the latter a colored minister. He had spent much of his time while in jail reading his Bible and had become persuaded of his salvation, saying as much from the scaffold. He had told Sheriff Monroe that he would not give him the least trouble when he came to be hanged, and he kept his word. Edwards was a chocolate colored negro, 28 years of age, and had an intelligent face. His remains will be sent to his sister at Blacksburg, S. C.

A crowd of fully 1,000 people pressed around the enclosure in the jail yard where the hanging took place. Some of them wrenched off the planks and succeeded in seeing inside. There were about 30 witnesses to the execution, including W. E. McManus, uncle of the murdered man, and John Taylor and Robert Funderbuck, his brothers-in-law, all of Concord; Sheriff Peck, of Cabarrus, and officers from Charlotte and Statesville were also present.

The crime for which Will Edwards died today was committed exactly a year ago near the depot in Concord. Policeman Kerns, in endeavoring to arrest Edwards and another negro with him, Tom Carr, was shot and killed by the former. The slayer boarded a freight train and was captured several days later near Grover, S. C. The trial of the case was ordered removed to Rowan court and in its course Edwards was sentenced to death and Carr allowed to submit to murder in the second degree, getting 20 years in the penitentiary. Edwards took an appeal to the Supreme Court which proved vain. During its pendency, and in the fear that the Governor might commute his sentence, a demonstration toward lynching was made by people from Cabarrus, in consequence of which he was placed in the Lexington jail, in order to remove him from further danger.

Thinks Bryan Will Carry New York and Be Elected.

Richmond Times, 2d.

Hon. George D. Wise is back from his vacation. He spent some time in Nova Scotia, where he met Bishop Jagger, who has often preached at St. Paul's and Bishop Kipsolving, of Texas.

Captain Wise spent some time in New York on his return home. He said to a Times Reporter last night: "I firmly believe Bryan will be President. Four years ago when I was in New York all the talk was in favor of McKinley. I was surprised to learn this week of the remarkable changes that have come about. It is Bryan now. The people realize that free silver is a dead issue. Probably 85 per cent. of the gold Democrats in New York are for Bryan. I mixed a good deal with the people. I talked with them on the street cars, in hotels and gathered information from my political and journal friends. Bryan, in my judgment, will carry New York State."

Captain Wise is in fine health and is ready to take the stump for Bryan and the other Democratic nominees.

To Curtail Mill Production.

The report of the special committee of the Southern Cotton Spinners' Association to investigate means of concentrating the yarn trade, made their report in Charlotte yesterday. They suggest that not over ten commission houses should be employed in handling the Southern mill product, and recommends a curtailment of production for the next sixty days. Both reports were adopted.

THE OLD LOVE THE STRONGER.

A Woman's First Husband Reappears and Claims Her After 28 Years.

Trenton, N. J., Dispatch, Aug. 31st.

In order that she may again take up life with her first husband, who, it was supposed, had died many years ago, and from whom she had never been legally separated, Mrs. Joseph Festimore to-day filled a bill for divorce from her second husband.

It is 28 years since Alfred J. Brown, disappeared from Orange, N. J., leaving behind him a youthful bride. No word came from him, but from a remote source, Mrs. Brown received the information that her husband had died in South America six years after he had left home. She married Joseph Festimore 18 years ago, and so far as the statements in her application for divorce show the union has been a happy one. But the old love proved to be the stronger.

Brown returned to Orange three weeks ago and learned that the bride of his young manhood was another's wife. He sought her out, and, after she had recovered from the shock occasioned by his appearance, they had a long talk over by-gone days. As a result, Mrs. Brown-Festimore decided to apply for the divorce.

Helping the Smoothness of True Love.

Concord Standard.

The Truth-Index gives an interesting account of a girl wife and how she got rid of her husband. She married him at 14 and wishes she hadn't. He threatened to kill her but afterward didn't and she put him to jail and then took him out. They agreed to disagree and be husband and wife no more. She applies for a divorce on legal grounds that he is good enough to confess. She agrees to take fifty dollars, six months board and the kitchen table and such other things as you find in a regulated household, together with all the cotton crop and the promise of his leaving the State for six months. Thus they try to make the current of true love run more smoothly.

Later we see that his month's absence from her expired in less than so many days and he had to be suppressed in his manner of expressing his affection.

Arthur Sewall, the Democratic Vice Presidential Nominee in 1896, Critically Ill.

Bath, Me., Sept. 3—Arthur Sewall, Democratic candidate for Vice President in 1896, is in a critical condition at his summer home at Small Point, 16 miles from this city. Mr. Sewall was seized with an attack of apoplexy at 10 o'clock last night, and has been unconscious most of the time since then. News was received from Small Point at noon to-day, to the effect that the chances for Mr. Sewall's recovery are slight.

COLD STEEL OR DEATH.

"There is but one small chance to save your life and that is through an operation," was the awful prospect set before Mrs. I. B. Hunt, of Lime Ridge, Wis., by her doctor after vainly trying to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jauntice. He didn't count on the marvellous power of Electric Bitters to cure stomach and liver troubles, but she heard of it, took seven bottles, was wholly cured, avoided surgeon's knife, now weighs more and feels better than ever. It's positively guaranteed to cure stomach, liver and kidney troubles and never disappoints. Price 50c at C. E. Holton's drug store.

QUESTIONS ANSWERED.

Yes, August Flower still has the largest sale of any medicine in the civilized world. Your mothers and grandmothers never thought of using anything else for indigestion or biliousness. Doctors were scarce, and they seldom heard of appendicitis, nervous prostration or heart failure, etc. They used August Flower to clean out the system and stop fermentation of undigested food, regulate the action of the liver, stimulate the nervous and organic action of the system, and that is all they took when feeling dull and bad with headaches and othaches. You only need a few doses of Green's August Flower, in liquid form, to moke you satisfied there is nothing serious the matter with you. For sale by Grissom & Fordham.

"LOPES TOO BLOOMIN 'IGH."

The Englishman's Only Comment When the Broncho Threw Him.

"Most Englishmen are considered pretty fair horsemen, but when it comes to riding a bucking broncho some of them are not in or on it for long," said the owner of a large cattle ranch in Wyoming to the writer the other day. "For instance, a rich young Englishman recently came out to my part of the country in quest of some good investment. He was at my ranch as a guest for a few days, and one afternoon as the cowboys were about to round up a bunch of cow ponies the young man said that he would enjoy a good ride in the saddle. He said he was used to riding only thoroughbreds, and he didn't think we had a horse good enough for him. The boys convinced him that they had one of the finest horses on the plains, and if he knew how to ride he was welcome to the animal. He was apparently insulted when questioned about his ability to ride and answered that he could ride any kind of a horse. A sleepy looking broncho was accordingly brought out from the corral and saddled. Though the beast appeared half dead, he was the worst bucker in the herd.

"'E's lifeless,' said the foreigner when the pony was brought to him. The boys said the nag would wake up after the first mile, and milord got into the saddle. The first buck jump placed him on the horse's neck, and after the second he was in the atmosphere. He turned a double somersault and landed on the sharp end of a cactus plant. When he picked himself up, one of the boys asked what he thought of the thoroughbred now. The question made the Englishman turn pale.

"'E's a good 'oss,' he answered, 'but he lopes too bloomin 'igh.'"—Washington Star.

THE MYSTERY OF DREAMS.

A Case In Which the Coincidences Were Remarkable.

On one occasion during the civil war I dreamed that I was standing beside a road when there came marching along it a strong column of prisoners, with guards at intervals on the flanks. I asked one of these guards who the prisoners were and where they had been captured. He informed me that they had been taken in an engagement with the enemy on the day before and that there were 1,900 of them. I then asked some bystander what day of the month it was and was told it was such a day of a certain month, some six weeks later than the date of the dream. The whole dream was extremely distinct, and it made a strong impression on me. I related it to a number of my comrades within the next few days and then thought of it no more.

Six weeks later, on the morning of the very day that had been mentioned in the dream as the date when the column of prisoners had passed before me, I was on picket two miles distant from the point where I had seemed to be when I saw them. It was soon after breakfast, and I was standing by the side of the road at the fire talking to the officer of the picket when an aid to the commanding general came riding down the road. He had been a schoolfellow of our officer's at West Point, and he reined up when he recognized his friend. He told us that he had good news; that there had been a sharp engagement with the enemy the day before and that our people had captured 1,900 prisoners, who had just passed the headquarters that morning on their way to the rear.—St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

Stuck to His Post.

When it comes to a battle, a horse shows no fear of death, no sign of being overcome by panic, in all the wild tumult of the battle's roar. A horse in one of our batteries in the Murfreesboro fight was hit by a piece of shell, which split his skull so that one side was loosened. The driver turned him loose, but when he saw the team he had worked with being driven back for ammunition he ran to his old place and galloped back with the rest. When an officer pushed him aside to have another horse put in, he gazed at the new one with a most sorrowful expression in his eyes. Then he seemed to realize that the battle was no more for him, and he walked away and lay down and died. The officer declared that it was a broken heart that killed him.—Our Dumb Animals.

Literary Difficulties.

"She has been talking about writing a novel for years," said one woman.

"Yes," answered the other, "but I don't think she'll ever get it completed. She has followed the plan of those authors who study their personal acquaintances for types of character."

"Isn't the method a good one?"

"Not in her case. When her husband refuses her anything, she wants to put him in as the villain, and when he does as she wishes she wants to make him the hero. It keeps her continually rewriting the first chapter."—Washington Star.

The Register of the Voice.

The register of the voice is sometimes confounded with the range. There are two registers to the voice, whatever its quality. These are termed the register of the chest and the register of the head.

The chest notes are given in full, even tones and with the natural voice. The tones may be either open or closed. They are given from the chest and the back of the nose.

Head tones come from the bridge of the nose, and if untrained are apt to develop an unpleasant shrillness.

In a trained voice it is impossible to detect where the chest register ends.—New York World.

SORES AND ULCERS.

Sores and Ulcers never become chronic unless the blood is in poor condition—is sluggish, weak and unable to throw off the poisons that accumulate in it. The system must be relieved of the unhealthy matter through the sore, and great danger to life would follow should it heal before the blood has been made pure and healthy and all impurities eliminated from the system. S.S.S. begins the cure by first cleansing and invigorating the blood, building up the general health and removing from the system all morbid, effete matter. A CONSTANT DRAIN UPON THE SYSTEM. When this has been accomplished the discharge gradually ceases, and the sore or ulcer heals. It is the tendency of these old indolent sores to grow worse and worse, and eventually to destroy the bones. Local applications, while soothing and to some extent alleviate pain, cannot reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does, and no matter how apparently hopeless your condition, even though your constitution has broken down, it will bring relief when nothing else can. It supplies the rich, pure blood necessary to heal the sore and nourish the debilitated, diseased body.

Mr. J. B. Talbert, Lock Box 245, Winona, Miss., says: "Six years ago my leg from the knee to the foot was one solid sore. Several physicians treated me and I made two trips to Hot Springs, but found no relief. I was induced to try S. S. S., and it made a complete cure. I have been a perfectly well man ever since."

SSS is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known—contains no poisonous minerals to ruin the digestion and add to, rather than relieve your sufferings. If your flesh does not heal readily when scratched, bruised or cut, your blood is in bad condition, and any ordinary sore is apt to become chronic.

Send for our free book and write our physicians about your case. We make no charge for this service.

SIGNS AND ADS.

Every person who has a store, an office or other place of business, and who considers a painted sign over his door necessary, can increase the number of his patrons by newspaper advertising. An immense proportion of the people look to the newspapers for information as to where they can get what they want—a fact which should furnish business men with a strong motive for advertising. The successful merchant would as soon think of taking down his signs as of leaving out his ads, which is proof that they pay for themselves. From a business point of view the only valid excuse for a failure to advertise is that which prevents an establishment from carrying an adequate stock—a lack of capital.

We acknowledge no competition. The simple plain talk of the mighty dollar together with good value, is our great argument. We have just received a big lot of new fall and winter shoes. Call and see them.
